

Hall Murder 'Eyewitness' To Be Produced Tonight

A new witness to the killing of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills on the Phillips farm near New Brunswick, N. J., four years ago, may be produced before night.

That was the flat declaration of authorities as Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson resumed this afternoon his investigation into the double murder.

Although the identity of the witness has been carefully concealed, it is said his story corroborates that of Mrs. Jane Gibson, the "pig woman," on many important points and has been told in detail to officials. The purpose of calling this man at the inquiry is to get his statements under oath.

To Be Quizzed About Gun
Several others whose names have figured in the case also are to be interrogated. Among them are Mrs. Clara Wertheim, at whose Bound Brook home former Prosecutor Azariah Beekman roomed, and Alfred Buttler, a taxicab driver.

It is believed that Mrs. Wertheim will be asked concerning the revolver she claims Beekman gave her after the murders, and Buttler about the report that he had seen Henry Carpenter leaving the Hall home with numerous packages the day the bodies were discovered.

Other witnesses subpoenaed are David Spieler and his wife of New Brunswick, who are supposed to have heard shots near De Bussey's Lane the night of the killings, and Dr. Laurence Runyon, said to have performed an operation for appendicitis on Carpenter, who, with his cousin, Willie Stevens, and the latter's sister, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, the minister's widow, have been charged with the crime.

Actor Dies Trying To Save Kangaroo

next floor, where his dogs were barking in their frenzy of fear.

Fights Like Maniac

He fought like a maniac when police dragged him from the building.

"I've worked years training my pets," he sobbed. "I can't replace them. If they go, I'll go with them. Without them I am helpless. Let me try and get them."

If he had not been forcibly restrained he would have dashed into the thick of the flames—and to certain death.

Just as the explosion occurred Dr. W. S. Gregory of 469 West 144th St. was passing in his car. At that moment Yellow Morse, colored, 46, had been beaten back from the building in his effort to save his pet bears. His clothing was burning and he fell unconscious on the sidewalk. Dr. Gregory applied first aid and then rushed the man to Roosevelt Hospital, where his condition is critical.

Firemen Battle Hard

Fire Chief John Kenlon arrived and took personal command.

"One of the worst fires in years," was his comment.

After the hard battle of the firemen they were sent by the chief through all floors, but only one body—that of Collins—was found.

And battling against the police lines were the men and women of the stage, the owners of the dead pets—all of them in tears.

Two Wives Lose No Love as Hubby Loses Freedom

Two loves were lost today by Charles Hertz of 95 India St., Brooklyn.

What's just as sad, Charles is in jail.

Mrs. Dora Pinkus Hertz and Mrs. Margaret Beach Hertz, wives No. 1 and No. 2, respectively, who were in Bridge Plaza Court to press charges of bigamy, lost no love on each other, however. They just glared.

Separated from Both

Charles has been separated from both. Mrs. Dora lives at 224 Stockton St., Brooklyn. She was married to him on December 13, 1913, she said. Mrs. Margaret, who lives at 102 North 8th St., Brooklyn, was married to him in May, 1923, according to her story.

Mrs. Dora did her best to keep track of her vanished husband. She heard rumors of marriage, enlisted the aid of detectives, and found him.

Magistrate Haubert today held him without bail for the grand jury. The wives will seek divorces.

Woman, 24, Has Park Cop, 53, Held For Flirtation

Patrolman Thomas F. Wilkinson, 53, and married twenty-nine years, when he sees an attractive woman, is still apt to forget himself, according to Mrs. Florence Hartley, 24, of 2040 East 13th St., Brooklyn. She told Deputy Police Commissioner Leach this today in Brooklyn, when Wilkinson was arraigned before him.

"He flirted outrageously with me when my car broke down late at night in Prospect Park and my husband went for aid," she asserted.

"In that case," Commissioner Leach said, "I'll see that he is taken from the Prospect Park precinct immediately and leave further action up to Commissioner McLaughlin."

Lawyer Is Killed In L. I. Auto Crash

EAST MORICHES, L. I., Sept. 7.—Ralph Crews, member of the law firm of Shearman & Sterling, 55 Wall St., New York, and director of the National City Company, was killed when an automobile driven by Guy Carey of the National City Bank skidded and overturned on Merrick Road, near here, last night. Carey was slightly hurt.

As the machine neared the railroad crossing here, Carey, who was driving, applied the brakes suddenly. The car skidded, turned violently, and overturned.

British Against 'One Big Union'

BOURNEMOUTH, ENG., Sept. 7. (By U. P.).—Representatives of British laboring men and women today rejected the "one big union" proposal which would have amalgamated trade unionist organizations aggregating more than 4,000,000 persons in one great organization. The vote was 2,172,000 to 1,480,000.

The action of the congress was interpreted as the aftermath of the failure of the recent general strike in which all the unions sought to combine their strength to assist the miners to victory over the mine owners.
